

GREGORY EGEDI, Founder-owner at BORN.hu, Brandcoach, Visual speaker, Unexpected mindset collector, HU

I have a design thinking attitude. I keep workshops on local and international brand building.

I visualize business - I bring you the latest globally collected information, creatively tailored to your needs. I do this via personal connections and knowledge clouds which rise by visiting and participating in international conferences across the globe.

My favourite subjects you might be interested to talk about:

- brandcoaching, marketing strategy, visual and message clearance
- startups, hackathons within larger organisations
- organisation development
