

GEORGIOS GRYLLOS, Legal Secretary, Chambers of Judge D. Gratsias General Court of the EU, LU

George Gryllos Studied Law at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki and holds a Master's Degree in EU Law from the above University. He practiced law as an attorney in Greece and became Legal Secretary at the Court of First Instance (now General Court of the EU) in 2004. Served under Judges S. Pappasavvas (2004-2010), N. J. Forwood (2010-2015) and D. Gratsias (2015-present). As a lawyer he mainly dealt with Contract Law, IP Law, Tax Law, State aids and commercial arbitration. As a Legal Secretary, he has dealt with a range of cases, such as Competition law (cartels, mergers, abuses of dominance including in IP and finance-related fields); Trade-Marks and designs; State aids (Air-transport, Services of general economic interest, Taxation, Privatisation schemes, Mining rights, Investment financing, public broadcasting); Public procurement; Extra-contractual liability of the Union; Common agricultural policy; Public access to documents; External action (restrictive measures, asset freezing); Antidumping and Free movement of services.